We told our friend, Long Tom, to not go to Sesspool hunting yesterday, but he thought he knew it all and went. We hear this morning that uncle Jake was over that way late in the evening and saw the top of Tom's head in the quicksand just as he disappeared in the direction of hades.

There is to be a big show in our town next week and we look to have a big day of it. We hear that Ground Hog Bill will be heard to clean up and we are getting ready to spring a great surprise on him.

We took our $1,000 watch over to Gray's creek Saturday to have Bill Tinker adjust its shanks so it could run faster. After we had returned to our shack we discovered that the hound had exchanged it to a waterbury. We have greased up our Bull dog and are going back to see Bill this evening. Something will drop when we get there.

Abie Jonsing went up to Bull Neck Saturday to see Susan Jones and her ma got after him with the poker, and Abie left for the West this morning.

We had a letter from Sallie Peck stating that her marm had repented of walloping us and that we could come again if we could get upstream enough.

Hank Peters was in town yesterday and we have our Arabian horse back and Hank is short on coon dogs in the bargain.

As we were crossing Sugar Mountain Wednesday we had the pleasure of seeing it raining up hill backward.

Nick Acorn went down Coon river fishing Tuesday and came home that night missing and has not been heard from since.

Mr. Ed Hopewell was called to Taylorville, last week, by the sickness of his father. He arrived two days before his father died.

Eld. Z. T. Williams and son have closed a very successful meeting at the Christian church. There were several additions to the church and the old members greatly revived.

Ben Banks, wife and son, of Richmond, are visiting the parents of the former at this place. They came down in automobile.

Berry Smith, Greensburg, is visiting his brother, Penick Smith.

James G. Blaine, in his "Twenty Years of Congress," has this to say of the democratic nominee for the vice-presidency, Judge Parker's running mate: "Henry G. Davis, a native of Maryland entered as the first democratic senator from West Virginia. His personal popularity was a large factor in the contest against the republicans of his state, and he was instantly regarded by his party as its most influential leader. Dr. Davis has honorably wrought his own way to high station and had been all his life in active affairs as a farmer, a railroad man, a lumberman, and operator in coal and a banker. He has been uniformly successful. He came to the senate with the kind of practical knowledge which schooled him to care and usefulness as a legislator. He steadily grew in the esteem and confidence of both sides of the senate, and when his party obtained the majority he was entrusted with the responsible duty of the chairmanship of the committee on appropriations. No more painstaking or trustworthy man ever held the place. While firmly adhering to his party he was at all times courteous and to the business of the senator or in loyal intercourse never obtruded partisan views. That is the opinion of James G. Blaine unquestioned leader of his party for many years, a man whose brilliant leadership makes many of the Republican leaders of to-day look like pygmies.—E. Town News.

STRAW VOTE NONSENSE.

The Chicago Tribune is having much to say these days about the significance of "straw" votes it has been taking. After interviewing two or three thousand Chicago citizens, The Tribune jumps to the conclusion that republican prospects are bright throughout the country. Republican organs and republican managers are welcome to every bit of comfort they can get out of such childish proceedings. If there is anything on earth that means nothing, it is this straw vote business.

This is particularly true of the present campaign. The result this year is going to be determined not by the men of either party who go about bearing labels indicating their choice, but by the independent, thinking vote which makes no parade and jins none.

It is the vest-pocket vote which is going to count in the doubtful states, where the result will, in the last analysis, be determined. The ballots that really mean something are going to be cast by men who are not now engaged in landing either of the candidates, but who are doing a good deal of thinking while the other fellows are doing the shouting.

It is to this vote that the democratic party especially appeals, and appeals with confidence.

HORT ERMON.

There is no worship in a whine.

Seeds of love bear fruit in all soils.

Blows of eloquence leave no bruises.

That which can be defined cannot be divided.

The smooth man is quite likely to backslide.

A man never knows how much religion he has until he gets off where no man can see him.

Some men expect to be killed through to heaven on their ability to express themselves.

There is no joy in cold storage religion.

Happiness is only the other side of helplessness.

The worst sin is the one with an odor of sanctity.

The greedy eye misses more than the generous one.—Ev.

Dispatches announce that the wholesale employers of Chicago will take advantage of the loss of the packing house strike to wrest that city from unionism. Already several large institutions have been closed down and the idle employees, added to the great body of strikers, make a mighty army of unemployed. The unions are without money and we do not doubt the ability of the employers to force the laborers to renounce unionism in order to hold their jobs. And yet, we fear it will prove a dangerous undertaking. An army of starving men is far more dangerous than an army of soldiers, and to foster such an army is to invite destruction of property.

David B. Hill, whose name is a household word wherever political matters have been given attention, announces that he will quit politics for all time with the beginning of the new year. Mr. Hill has been in politics from early manhood and has been fairly successful. Beginning with the position of town alderman, he ascended the political scale by the steps of city attorney, mayor, member of the Legislature, lieutenant governor, governor, finally reaching the U. S. Senate where he spent seven years. For a long time his eye rested upon the Presidential chair, but the split of the party on the silver question ruined what once seemed flattering prospects of guiding the destinies of a great nation. The leaders say his retirement will be worth many votes to Judge Parker. Hill is the leader of one faction of the New York democracy and is hated by the other faction to a degree that threatens the success of the party while he is its leader.

A correspondent writes that about six years ago he saw an item in a newspaper stating that a German physician was going to die, and he wished to make known the discovery he had made in relation to the treatment of a mad dog bite. The prescription he never knew to fall, and he had tried it many times with men, cattle and horses. It is this: Simply wash the wound as soon as possible in a little warm vinegar and water, and put a few drops of muriatic acid into the wound. This will neutralize the poison and prevent the disease which usually proves fatal.—Boston Journal.

The Russians and Japs are now engaged in a sanguinary struggle at Liau Yang. For two days the battle has been waged without decided advantage to either army. The Japs have 240,000 men, the Russians about 175,000. The dispatches estimate that each side has lost about 10,000 men and thousands will be added to the slain ere victory perches upon either banner. This promises to be the bloodiest battle of modern times and may prove the deciding contest of the war. Port Arthur still holds out against the daily attacks of the Japs. There, also, the losses stagger humanity.

To the citizens of Adair county: The undersigned are in the tombstone business at Campbellsville, Ky. Campbellsville is your neighbor, and as you have no manufacturer of this work in Columbia, would it not be to your interest to patronize us? We guarantee satisfaction both in quality of work and prices. We solicit work from Adair and adjoining counties.

MINERAL WATER.

It Has Been Recently Found on the Farm of J. C. Morrison, Taylor County.

This well is on the Campbellsville and Greensburg pike, five miles from the former place and seven from the latter. The well is 88 feet deep and the water is as cold as a person would want it. It is situated on Mr. J. C. Morrison's place, who is making preparations to take a few boards.

The following gives a full explanation: Agricultural Experiment Station, State College of Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., July 30, 14, 1904.—Mineral water sent by J. C. Morrison, Campbellsville, Taylor county, Ky., July 18, 1904. The sample was received July 21, 1904, in pint bottle. The water smelled strongly of hydrogen sulphide and there was a deposit of sulphur in the bottle.

ANALYSIS.

The water contains 320.9 grains of solid matter to the gallon, composed mainly of chlorides and sulphates of sodium, calcium and magnesium, some calcium carbonate and traces of iron, potassium and lithium compounds and a trace of borates. The water contained also a very considerable quantity of hydrogen sulphide. Is very good saline sulphur water.
